

HOW I LIVE UNITED

My name is Bill. Ever since I retired from the AU Department of Engineering, I've been tutoring and volunteering full time. Now I've been helping out the United Way for about 45 years. I was always in a civic club growing up, which involved volunteering. I tutored developmentally disabled children in my neighborhood elementary school, but I am much more involved now that I have retired.

To see someone make progress in learning to read makes my day. My tutoring sessions are the highlight of my week.

Through my volunteer work, I hope to help others and to enrich my own life. The services funded by the United Way are absolutely necessary to our community. If we don't contribute, the United Way can't continue to exist.
